Reviews

It becomes an awesome publication that I actually have actually read. It really is written in simple terms and not difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Excerpt: . . . The Bee-Keepers Directory. Vol. IV. INDIANAPOLIS, APRIL, 1878. No. 1. N, C. MITCHELLS ADDRESS TO HIS SCHOLARS AND STUDENTS. Ladies And Gentlemen. --The time has arrived for us to review our work preparatory to leaving for our homes. The question in which we are all deeply interested is this: after you have arrived at home will you be able to go to work with your bees and handle them successfully and so as to make them pay We do think you will have no trouble in making apiaculture pay a hundred per cent, more than any of the rural industries, at the same time your labors will be comparatively much easier as well as more remunerative. , This is one of the branches of rural industry that the ladies can engage in, and in this they can equal if not surpass the gentlemen. We have spent this morning for the purpose of reviewing our studies and if possible learn more of the little busy bee. We notice this morning many gentlemen whom you have been kind enough to invite to be present at the close of our course of instructions. We see before us gentlemen of long experience. We allude more especially to Mr. Knowall, Old Fogey, Nopatent and Donothing. I would say to you all consider yourself at home, and while any part of the subject is under discussion, we would be glad to have any one of you to ask us any...
